In the world's broad field of battle,
In the conflict of real life,
Advertising is the secret
Of achievement in the strife,
Lives of rich men all remind us,
We can make our own sublime;
And by liberal advertising
To the highest summit climb.

FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.

Tell me not in mournful numbers,
Advertising does not pay;
For the man's non compus mentis
Who would such absurd things say.
Life is real! Life is earnest!
And the man who hopes to rise
To success in any calling,
Must expect to advertise.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

EX-GOVERNOR and ex-Minister JARVIS is reported as declaring that there is no truth in the rumor that he is a candidate for Congress in his district.

THE Southern Educational Association convenes at Morehead City on the 1st of July, at the formal opening of which Gov. FOWLE is to deliver the address.

"THERE is a movement on foot in New York to sell beer by weight instead of measure." Perhaps if the beverage is made to weigh well it will have a tendency to keep its festive votaries from getting so "high up."

WE are abreast of the civilization of the nineteenth century: HARRY COLLINS, of Alabama, the "Southern Pugilist" (soi disant), is registered at the Carolina House in Asheville, and has been interviewed by a reporter of the Citizen.

"THIS country uses fifteen or twenty per cent. more soap than any other country in the world." And yet we are constantly meeting delinquent subscribers on the streets and in other public places who assure us, almost with tears in their eyes, that they would be delighted to pay our little bill, but they are "entirely out of soap."

THE Southport Leader is a new venture in the field of journalism, whose accomplished editor, Mr. STEPHENS, paid Fayetteville a visit last week. The people of Southport seem resolved to "come out of the kinks" by "taking time by the forelock;" and, if they will be guided by good judgment, they will—as the best method of promoting the prosperity of their town—give the new paper a liberal support.

"IF the bill which has been introduced to erect a public building in every town of 3,000 or more inhabitants passes it would take about $200,000,000 to foot the bill." We were under the impression that the bill above-mentioned by an exchange provided for the erection of public buildings in all towns where the business of the post office amounted to more than $3,000 annually, without reference to the number of inhabitants.

NO guests at the Wilmington celebration were more honored than Col. W. L. SAUNDERS, Secretary of State, who, seated in his invalid-chair in the lobby of the Orton House, held a levee, we might say, from morning till night—and the venerable Hon. D. F. Caldwell, of Guilford, who made a forcible speech at the banquet, and who has perhaps done as much as any one living man for railroad improvement in North Carolina.

"THE Lord save us from our friends!" The New York Sun and the New York World profess, we believe, to be Democratic papers. The former distinguished itself the other day by flooding ex-President CLEVELAND with the vile billingsgate of which it has always been an adept, and the latter is self-convicted of deliberately lying about him. It is doubtful that there are to be found in any part of the world where the printing-press is known two more utterly unprincipled journals than the New York Sun and the New York World.

NOT much over fifty miles away from us is quietly but steadily going on the development of the material resources of one section of the State, the results of which will in a few years astonish the whole outside world. Montgomery county seems to be almost one vast gold-field, and very recently a company has been organized with a capital of $1,000,000 to work two or three of the most important mines. The building of the Fayetteville & Aberdeen R. R. will be one of the most beneficent works of internal improvements ever accomplished in the South.

THERE is no little harm done by "flying off the handle," "shooting off at a tangent," "jumping at conclusions," and being guilty of other erratic displays of action and thought. It now appears that Miss WINNIE DAVIS, the "Daughter of the Confederacy," is not to marry a violent, malevolent Abolitionist, "after the most strictest sect," whereby the "bloody chasm" between the two sections is to be more effectually bridged, and the "lion and the lamb are to lie down together." Mr. WILKINSON, her prospective husband, is a States-rights-Democrat—good enough to have sat at the feet of her gifted father, "like Paul at the feet of Gamaliel."

THE "goody-goody" people of this country—the officious intermeddlers in private affairs, the gushing moralists who would revolutionize the world at a jump—seem disposed to "prohibit" poor, frail mortality out of its free agency. Under the straitjacket sway of these "Honeythunder" philanthropists it would be impossible to practice positive virtues in spite of temptation; all the vices legislated out of existence, vi et armis, by the force of statute, we would be negatively good, with about as little credit for it as is due to the burglar in Sing-Sing prison, who does not ply his nefarious trade simply because he is locked up. Are the old days of the Connecticut "Blue Laws" coming back

Thinking It Over.

Youth's Companion.]

Hot-headed persons sometimes prove the mildest of citizens when they can be persuaded to stop and think. It has been said that a douche of cold water will disperse any mob, and reflection is certainly the salutary cold bath of the passionate individual.

When Prince Bismarck and Count Rechberg were Prussian and Austrian ambassadors respectively at the Frankfort Diet, Bismarck soon discovered that the count, though an honorable man, was hot-tempered and passionate. Count Rechberg, in his turn, cordially disliked Prussia and its representative, but did all in his power to keep on amicable terms with him.

Still there were many occasions, both political and social, when the friction between them became very apparent. One day things came to such a point that the count, losing his temper utterly, exclaimed:

"One of my friends shall wait on you in the morning!"

"Why all this unnecessary delay!" replied Herr von Bismarck, coolly. "In all probability you have a pair of pistols handy. Let us settle the matter immediately. While you get the things ready I will write a report about the whole transaction, which, in case I am killed, I request you to forward to Berlin."

Each set about his task. When Bismarck had finished his paper he gave the sheet to Count Rechberg, and requested him to examine it.

The count's passion had, in the meantime, given way to sober reflection. After perusing the report, he said, "What you have written is quite correct, but is it really worth while to fight a duel for such a reason?"

"That is exactly what I wish to be told," said Bismarck, and the matter ended.

Victoria's Costly Forgetfulness.

Ladies' Home Journal.]

Some years ago her majesty bought from a well-known London jeweler three very valuable pearls, the united cost of which was not far short of £500. A little while after the purchase had been made the merchant was surprised to receive a letter from a lady at court, which read: "The Queen wishes very much to know if pearls will burn." The reply to this tart inquiry was an assurnnee that if her majesty wished to oxygenize pearls for her amusement she would find that they would burn in an ordinary fire. The rejoinder brought the secret to light. The Queen had placed the pearls on her writing desk, wrapped in a piece of tissue paper. As she was writing one morning she used the tissue paper to wipe her pen, and threw it into the fire. The pearls, all unobserved, went with it. The ashes of the grate were searched for them in vain. They had been destroyed so utterly as to leave no trace. The Queen had with her own hand cast three splendid jewels, worth more than the average income of her middle-class subjects, into the blaze.

Superstition in India.

St. Paul Pioneer-Press.]

One of the numerous temples in India contains a couple of relics of the god to whom it is dedicated. One is the last foot-print made on the earth by the god before ascending to heaven. This foot-print is in the solid rocks, showing that the god gave a vigorous push to start himself well on the way, and it is about two feet in length, showing that he was of super-heroic stature. The other relic is a tooth of the god. Some years ago the temple was captured by Europeans, and the sacred tooth ground to powder, and thrown into the river by the irreverent captors. But the particles of the tooth came together, so the priests say, and assumed their original shape, and the perfect tooth was found reposing on a leaf. It was carefully replaced in the altar of the temple, inside of nine golden caskets, where it remains to this day. The blind worshipers believe it to be the original tooth of their god, and their faith is not shaken at all by the fact that naturalists who have examined it pronounce it to be the small molar tooth of an elephant.

How the Mississippi Was Made.

St. Louis Republic.]

As a possible theory of the origin of the Mississippi river, among the many that have at different times been brought forward by noted scientists, the most recent is the suggestion that its erosion was accomplished by means of a mighty cataract, which began far down the river, near its original mouth, and by gradual retrogressing dug out the valley-like gorge. That this theory is tenable may be inferred from the high, wall-like bluffs—features characteristic in the upper part of its course. A wearing away of any monster cataract would of course necessarily leave the high bluff walls on either side, which are well-known features of "the father of meandering streams." It would seem, according to this theory, that St. Anthony Falls constitute the remnant of what was once the most stupendous cataract in the world. It is estimated that it must have taken 400,000 years to carve out the mighty ditch.

Couldn't Unlock the Canal.

Philadelphia Ledger.]

A burglar in a French village got into the room of two men while they were absent, and, fastening the door from the inside, prevented them from getting in when they came back. The police sent for the village locksmith. But he, very strangely, couldn't be found, so they burst open the door just as the burglar got upon the roof of the building. He was seen and pursued down the street and into a canal. The shock of the cold bath made him unconscious, and he died in a short time. When they washed from his face the black with which he had disguised himself the riddle of the village blacksmith's whereabouts was solved. He was the burglar himself.

Homicides in San Francisco.

San Francisco Examiner.]

Committed by Chinese, 21; by all other nationalities, 37; total Chinese population, 30,000; all other nationalities, 300,000; murders by Chinese in proportion to their numbers, one to each 1,428; other nationalities, one to each 8,108; proportion of Chinese murderers to those of all other nationalities combined, nearly eight to one. In view of these figures, the query as to in what particular the Chinese may be called "inoffensive and law-abiding" becomes very pertinent.

Edison's Big Check.

When Edison had finally sold his patent on the gold and stock indicator to the Western Union Telegraph Company for $40,000, he went over to New York city to get his money.

He had heard of Wall street and its "bulls" and "bears," and had been told that it was full of "sharks" who would fleece a man very quickly. So he made up his mind that Wall street was a very dangerous place, and that if he ever had occasion to go there he would be lucky if he got away without losing his overcoat and his umbrella.

At that time Gen. Lefferts was President of the Western Union. One morning, soon after his arrival in New York, Edison walked into the general offices of the company to close up the sale of his patent. After a few preliminaries a check for $40,000 was handed to him. He looked at it curiously for a moment or two, and appeared to be puzzled to know what to do with it. He knew that he had sold a patent to the Western Union Company for $40,000, but he didn't see any money. Observing his perplexity, Gen. Lefferts told him that if he would go to the Bank of America, on Wall street, the check would be cashed on presentation. So carefully folding up the check, he started for Wall street.

On arriving at the Bank of America he hesitated about entering, still fearing that something might be wrong. At last, however, he mustered up courage, and half tremblingly shoved out his check to the cashier. That official scrutinized it closely, gave Edison a piercing glance, and said something which the latter could not understand, as he is hard of hearing.

That was enough. He was now more than ever convinced that the check wasn't worth $40,000, and he thought, as he meekly retired from the bank with it, that if anybody would offer $2,000 for it it was his. He hurried back to the Western Union offices, and stated that he could not get any money. Gen Lefferts sent a man back with him to identify him, who said: "This is Mr. Thomas A. Edison, to whose order the check is drawn."

"Why, certainly, Mr. Edison," said the cashier, obsequiously; "how would you like your $40,000—in what shape?"

"Oh! any way that suits the bank. It doesn't make any difference to me, so long as I get the money."

Edison was paid $40,000 in large bills. After dividing the amount into two big rolls of $20,000 each, he stuffed one into each trousers pocket, buttoned up his coat as tightly as possible, and made a break to get out of Wall street as soon as he could. The next day he began work on his first laboratory in New York.

Mind Concentration.

Blackwood's Magazine contains some interesting reminiscences of Lord Brougham. "On one occasion," writes Lord Lamington, "he laid down as the principle of the first element of success the power of concentrating the mind on one subject. We had been talking of the French Revolution. 'Do you mean,' I asked, 'that if you had been sentenced to be guillotined at 10 o'clock you would have forgotten it until the hour arrived?' 'If I were sentenced to be guillotined at 10 o'clock,' he replied, 'I should not think of it until 8 o'clock, or 9 o'clock, or whatever hour I had determined upon for bringing it to my mind. On the occasion of my speech on the Queen's trial, when all my reputation depended upon it, I resolved to banish it from my thoughts until the duty immediately confronted me—and I slept so soundly the night before that I awoke in the morning only in time to get to court.'"

A keen sense of the ludicrous Brougham regarded as a proof of genius. He himself had an amusing sense of his own importance and greatness in popular estimation. One day a party of six went to dine with him at the Trafalgar in Greenwich. When the dinner was ended Brougham called for pen and ink, and set about writing a check for the amount of the bill. One of the party suggested that if his lordship hadn't the money with him it might be better for one of his guests to lend him the wherewithal.

"No, no," said Brougham, while a twinkle came into his shrewd eyes, "I have plenty of money, but, then, you see, the landlord may possibly prefer my signature to the money."

A Tragedy Recalled.

The calamity which recently deprived Secretary Tracy of his wife and daughter recalls another which appalled the people of the whole country about forty-six years ago. On Wednesday, February 23rd, 1844, a large wrought-iron gun called the "Peacemaker" burst, when fired for the third time, on the United States ship Princeton, on the Potomac. Mr. Upshur, Secretary of State; Mr. Gilmer, recently placed at the head of the Navy; Commodore Kennon, one of its gallant officers; Mr. Maxey, recently returned from a diplomatic residence at the Hague; Mr. Gardner, formerly member of the New York State Senate, were killed. Besides these, 17 seamen were injured.

Ancient Greek Ballots.

The ancient Greeks voted by ballot as the expression of the individual will. Democracy was comparatively unknown before the discovery and use of the ballot. In ancient times leaves were used as ballots, but were rejected on account of the ease with which they could be destroyed or tampered with to secure false counts. Pebbles, bits of metal and other material were used for ballots before paper was known.

Young Lady—I heard somebody kiss you in the dark hall last night.

Pretty Waiting Maid—you got kissed, too.

"Yes, but that's the young man to whom I am engaged to be married. There is no harm in that."

"I'm glad to hear it. He was the young man you heard kissing me in the hall last night."

Young lady faints.

Wife—Did you find out what ailed the clock last night after I told you that it wouldn't run?

Husband—No; I sat up until after midnight, and took it all to pieces, but I saw nothing wrong with it.

Well, I thought over the matter after I got in bed, and I know what was the matter with it: I forgot to wind it up.

Friend—Do you live happily with your husband?

Muscular Female—Of course I do. I'd just like to see him try not to live happily with me.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

THURSDAY.....MAY 1, 1890.

FAYETTEVILLE'S PUBLIC BUILDING.

In the session of the 26th ult., in the Senate of the United States, the bill authorizing an appropriation of $75,000 for a public building in this city was passed. Of course it is not yet a certainty, but we may now feel very confident that its consumation is assured, and our people feel grateful to the North Carolina Senators and to our Representative, Hon. C. W. McClammy, for their strenuous and continued efforts in our behalf.

Fayetteville is especially indebted to Hon. M. W. Ransom, who has labored to effect an object of such importance to this community, and who, by the unanimous consent of the Senate, had the bill, with its amendments, engrossed for the third reading, read the third time, and passed. We give as follows its operative features:

That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to acquire by purchase, condemnation or otherwise, a site, and cause to be erected thereon a suitable building, including fireproof vaults, heating and ventilating apparatus, elevators and approaches, for the use and accommodation of the United States custom-house, post-office and other Government offices, in the city of Fayetteville and State of North Carolina, the cost of said site and building, including said vaults, heating and ventilating apparatus, elevators and approaches, complete, not to exceed the sum of $75,000, which said sum of 75,000 is hereby appropriated for said purpose out of any moneys in the United States Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Proposals for the sale of land suitable for said site shall be invited by public advertisement in one or more of the newspapers of said city of largest circulation for at least twenty days prior to the date specified in said advertisement for the opening of said proposals.

* * * * * *

After the said site shall have been paid for, and the sketch, plans and detailed estimates for the building shall have been prepared by the Supervising Architect and approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of the Interior, and the Postmaster-General, the balance of said appropriation shall be available for the erection and completion of the building, including fire-proof vaults, heating and ventilating apparatus, elevators and approaches.

The building shall be unexposed to danger from fire by an open space of at least 40 feet on each side, including streets and alleys.

We feel that his constituents may depend upon the ability, tact and fidelity of Major McClammy to do well his part in the House when the bill is submitted for the final action of that body, and that he will add another item to the list of important services which he has rendered to his people.

THE WORK OF THE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE.

The people of North Carolina cannot too highly estimate the value of the work accomplished by the Legislative Committee in the matter of railroad taxation, and the people of Cumberland county need to be unstinted in their gratitude to Mr. T. H. Sutton, whose influential position in the General Assembly indicated him at once as a suitable member of this important committee, and whose abilities gave him commanding weight and prominence in every step of its deliberations.

Theirs was a duty which could be performed only by men who were no respecters of persons—and they were equal to the great responsibility which confronted them. Her servants have proved for North Carolina that she will be a just and loving mother to all her children, and a slave to none. A self-sustaining penitentiary and every class or condition bearing its due share of the burdens of taxation:—this is part of the record of this General Assembly.

THE DEVIL CAN SOMETIMES SPEAK THE TRUTH.

Ben Butler once said that, with all the abuse that had been heaped upon his devoted head throughout a long and chequered career, he was profoundly thankful that even his most inveterate enemy never called him a fool. Of the same party (if the erratic Benjamin can be "spotted" as belonging to any particular party) another with a reputation no less unsavory can make the same boast—Ingalls, of Kansas, is no fool. He recently declared, in substance, that the political and material interests of the South and the West are identical, and that an alliance of the two great sections is the only natural alliance. Here is wisdom—for once—from the lips of a politician, but when that alliance is accomplished Ingalls and his party must "hustle" out of the track of the "car of Juggernaut."

We are waiting for this "consummation devoutly to be wished" before signifying our willingness to "depart in peace;" we are waiting for a realization of that position of independence which will enable the Democratic party to not only present a platform of principles broad enough and strong enough for all classes but a national ticket of men whose rightful leadership is unquestioned, and who have no fear of the tomahawk and war-paint of Tammany; we are waiting for the day when the Democrats of New York will still hold a welcome place in the "house of their fathers," but will not be conceded the right to occupy all the comfortable easy-chairs while the rest of the family are standing up, or to monopolize the warmest corner at the fireside while their brethren are cooling their heels in the passage; we are waiting for the day when the contests of the national Democracy shall be fair and square standup fights, characterized by unyielding devotion to principle, in which the "mugwump" and the "independent" are courteously received in their efforts to mend the error of their ways, but are not allowed to take the reins and "run the concern"—such a manly fight as Hill made in New York in 1885, when he swelled Cleveland's plurality of only about 1,100 the year before to a majority of 25,000 or 30,000.

Yes, the alliance is natural of the South and West, and without it they have suffered insuperable obstacles to their advancement and well-being; without it a great agricultural class, whom God and nature intended to be the most prosperous people on earth—with magnificent resources and unsurpassed climatic advantages—see their interests languish under a false system of political economy, and their lands depreciate in value under the burden of debt. But the time may not be far distant when all this will be changed.

Wharton J. Green.

EDS. OBSERVER:—The time is rapidly approaching when the Democratic voters of the 3rd Congressional district, in convention assembled, will nominate some good and true man to represent them in the House of Representatives of the 52nd Congress. Many and varied must be the qualifications of the man who is to hold this important trust; and, casting my eyes around upon the many who aspire to this position, and carefully weighing each in the balances of my judgment, none seems so well-adapted by every statesman-like requisite as the gentleman whose name heads this column. Of broad and liberal views indueed by a thorough education and intimate contact with the outside world, aggressive when error is to be combatted and corruption overthrown, stubborn and unyielding when truth is to be vindicated and the principles of pure government up held, Col. Wharton J. Green is in every way eminently qualified to represent the intelligence and integrity of this District, and in no better way can the interests of the people be subserved than by giving him a unanimous nomination in this convention.

Casting his lot among us considerably over a decade of years ago, during which time he has won the respect and esteem of all by his fearless course and by his polished and cordial demeanor, and devoting his time, means and energies to the noble science of agriculture, there is in his heart a responsive throb to every ambition, impulse, sorrow and joy of his countrymen, and he is emphatically of the people, with the people and for the people in every thing that appertains to their material interests. Having participated in its dangers and hardships most actively during the late war, the military prefix to his name is no empty title, no idly sounding pseudonymn granted by the tongue of sycophancy or adulation, but it was welded indissolubly to his personality by the fiery breath of a hundred battles, and around it cluster memories of the sabre's flash, the cannon's roar and fields drunk deep in patriotic blood.

Having served several terms in Congress where his fidelity to duty and intelligent efforts in behalf of his constituency compelled the admiration and plaudits of his colleagues, and where, as I will later show, he carried constantly before him as "a frontlet to his eyes" the best interests of the people whom he represented, he has the experience that is of more avail than ordinary brains and good intentions. His associates in the House and Senate are men of national reputation and unbounded influence, and this fact means unlimited strength in any position that he may take for the benefit of his constituents. As an evidence of his influence and the many wise measures which he had advocated in behalf of the people, I cite the following:

On taking his seat in the 48th Congress he was appointed on the Committee of Agriculture, and, next to the Chairman, was senior member of it in the 49th Congress. In the 48th Congress he was a member of the Select Committee on ventilation and acoustics, and in the 49th Congress whas chairman of the same.

Among the bills introduced by him in the 48th Congress, was one to erect a public building in Fayetteville and also to provide for holding Federal courts at the same place. The recognized policy of the party being against appropriations for public buildings where no Federal court is established, the first was defeated by the non-passage of the other. Also a bill, later on adopted, to erect a public building in Wilmington (then in his district), the outgrowth of which is the present fine structure now nearing completion. He also introduced a bill, which was passed, establishing lights on the lower Cape Fear. A bill for the purpose of securing greater efficiency in the star route mail service by requiring contractors to reside in the State was ably advocated by him and became a law. A measure to prevent the adulteration of food and drugs, which was eloquently and ably championed by him in a masterly speech on the floor of the House, secured a favorable report from the Committee on Public Health, and lacked but two votes of passage in the House. This illustrates and speaks in an eloquent tongue of his abiding interest in and love for his countrymen at large. He also introduced a bill to encourage the cultivation of fruits, which obtained a three-fourths in the agricultural committee, but failed of final passage on the floor, he submitting the majority report. Also a bill for the payment to the people of the rebate on tobacco. During the second session of the 48th Congress he introduced an amendment to the inter-State commerce bill, requiring railroads embraced in said bill to do their own expressage with a view to reduced rates to shippers. In setting forth the claims of this amendment, he made a strong, logical speech, which won for him unstinted praise, compliments even from his most bitter, stubborn opponents. During the same session he delivered a speech opposing most strenuously the retirement and pensioning of Gen. Grant, who was then a private citizen.

In the first session of the 49th Congress a bill was introduced by him to regulate compensation and mileage in contested election cases, the object being to prevent a swindle on the Government by making it pay both candidates for the same seat. In the second session of the 49th Congress a bill for a graduated income tax, to compel capital to bear its due proportion of the burdens of the Government, one almost identical with the one lately introduced by Col. Rowland, was proposed by Wharton J. Green. He also in the 49th Congress supported the olemargarine bill, which is now a law of the land, believing it to be sanctioned by justice and sound policy and in the interest of the great mass of the people as against a few extortional monopolists, who, by making and selling as honest butter a spurious article composed of vile ingredients, were realizing from 100 to 200 per cent. profit for themselves, and thus destroying the great dairy interests of the country. The tax so imposed yields a handsome and growing revenue to the Government, although only one-fourth of that levied on manufactured tobacco, and without crippling the producer cheapens the bogus article almost one-half to the consumer by subjecting it to brand or label. The effect of its operation militates against the interests of no one in North Carolina, and is decidely beneficial to the majority. In addition to the above he introduced and advocated various bills for the improvement of the rivers and water ways in his district, many of which were adopted. He also warmly supported the Mexican pension bill whereby a few old veterans, mostly Southern men, were accorded a small fraction of the wholesale pensions given those of the more favored section in a later war. Moreover he introduced divers and sundry bills of a private character, together with petitions and motions too numerous to mention.

In conclusion, I would ask you, fellow countrymen, to examine carefully his record, weigh well his acts when he was your servant, and then determine whether or not he is a fit man in whose hands your interests may be entrusted. Then if your decision be favorable—and it cannot be otherwise—give him your hearty support at the coming convention. CUMBERLAND.

Wilmington Notes.

For the Observer.]

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 28, '90.

Society has been in quite a stir here during the past few weeks. One would have thought from the number of marriages in our city before the Lenten season came in that the matrimonial market would have been quite flat for a while, but since Easter she has resumed her former activity, and the public has had plenty to talk about. On last Thursday evening Miss Gore, of this city, was married to Mr. Owens, of the U. S. Revenue cutter Colfax. Quite an ovation was held at the residence of the bride's father, after which the happy couple took the 12 M. train for an extended trip North.

Lovers of music were delighted this evening by a grand musicale under the auspices of St. Agnes's Guild. Wilmington's best talent was enlisted in the cause, and it was a delightful and charming entertainment. By the way, few places in the State can boast of better musical talent than is found here.

On Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock Miss Carrie Strange (daughter of the late Col. Robert Strange) will be married to Mr. G. H. Smith. Quite a train of attendants will follow them to the altar. The bridemaids are to be very handsomely attired in dresses of primrose yellow and mauve crepe de chene, with exquisitely arranged wreaths of primroses and lilacs on their heads and roses in their hands. An elegant reception will be held at the residence of Col. J. W. Atkinson, corner Fifth and Dock. The bride has many friends and relatives in Fayetteville, who will be pleased to know that she has alerady been the recipient of many rich and elegant gifts, testimonials of the love and esteem in which she is held by all who know her. They will take quite a tour abroad, sailing from New York on the 10th of May, after having travelled in the North and West for several days.

The Wilmington Light Infantry will hold a grand military carnival and butterfly party here on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of May. Special excursion rates have been given them over all the railroads and many visitors are expected. The W. L. I. is now in splendid condition under the leadership of its present commander, Capt. W. R. Kenan, who is much loved by its members.

I have had many a hand-shake during the past week from lovers of the old F. I. L. I. They all seem to admire the stand the company has taken. One old member said he hoped the day would come when the people of the State would realize the position North Carolina had placed herself in by the adoption of the blue uniform, and, admiring the wisdom and pride of the Fayetteville company, would demand a change. Let us hope the wisdom and precision which characterized our forefathers has been handed down to their sons, and that their action Monday night, the 21st, will prove an act to be honored by those who follow after. Has not the gray been immortalized in the songs of the South and

"When marble wears away
And monuments are dust,
The songs that guard our soldiers' clay
Will still fulfill their trust.

The banner you bore is furled,
And the gray is faded, too!
But in all the colors that deck the world
Your gray blends not with blue.

The colors are far apart,
Graves sever them in twain.
The Northern heart and the Southern heart
May beat in peace again."

Friday afternoon Maj. Chas. M. Stedman gave an oyster roast at his place on the sound, complimentary to Judge Shepherd. All the members of the court and bar were invited, and quite a delightful afternoon was spent with the genial, warm-hearted host.

Evangelist Fife has returned from Rocky Mount, where he has just closed another large and successful meeting, during which over one hundred and fifty souls were brought to Christ.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

CROSS CREEK, LODGE, No. 4, I. O. O. F.,
FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., April 21st, '90.

WHEREAS, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst our beloved brother JAMES VANN, therefore be it

Resolved, 1st. That we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well, yet we deplore the loss of our beloved brother who gave freely of his time to the work and interests of the order, and was a faithful attendant upon Lodge at all times.

Resolved, 2nd. That although for many years a laborer in the work of the order, yet at the ripe age of 63 years his interest in its welfare and participation in its practical operations never flagged.

Resolved, 3rd. That while mingling our tears with the bereaved ones left behind, we recognize the fact that our brother has entered within the walls of the Celestial City and no longer is called upon to go on through the pathless wilderness of life's tempestuous sea. While mourning our loss, we feel that it is our brother's gain, and hold in sacred remembrance his fadeless devotion to Friendship, Love and Truth.

Resolved, 4th. That we tender the family of our deceased brother the sympathy of the entire brotherhood of Cross Creek Lodge; and, although called away, he still lives in our memory.

Resolved, 5th. That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes, and that copies be furnished to the family of our deceased brother and to the Fayetteville OBSERVER for publication.

THE LADIES DELIGHTED.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Eupepsy.

This is what you ought to have—in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you Good Digestion and oust the demon Dyspepsia and install instead Eupepsy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by B. E. Sedberry & Son, Druggists.

G. J SPENCER, formerly proprietor of the St. Joseph Evening News, says he has been greatly benefited by the use of Microbe Killer, and is still using it. For sale by B. E. Sedberry & Son.

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy will Cure Rheumatism and Skin Eruptions.

OXFORD, N. C., July 13, 1888.

MRS. JOE PERSON—Madam:—As I have been very much benefited by the use of your Remedy, I think it my duty to testify to the same. I have for some time past been troubled with Rheumatism, and also an eruption of the skin on the chest and shoulders which was very annoying. I used your Remedy, and have been entirely cured of the skin disease, and very much relieved of the Rheumatism. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public. Respectfully, GEO. B. REAVIS.

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy is a Good Nervine.

OXFORD, N. C.

I take pleasure in stating that I have found great relief from taking Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy as a tonic and nervine. I had not been able to sleep well for more than twelve months, but, after using one-half dozen bottles, suffered no longer from restlessness, but have sweet, refreshing sleep; in fact, sleep is now natural and sound. I used it also for indigestion, and it made a perfect cure.

MRS. M. E. LIVINGSTONE.

My Remedy is now put in plain, round, pint packing bottles, no name blown. The carton holding bottle is now printed altogether in black ink instead of black and red as heretofore; my signature on each label is now written with pen and ink, instead of lithographed as formerly. Every label and carton numbered, as in physicians' prescriptions. The Wash packages are printed altogether in black ink and numbered. Persons buying the Remedy should see that the new style is furnished them, as I cannot guarantee any other to be genuine. MRS. JOE PERSON,
Kittrell, N. C.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., July 13, 1889.—I have used several gallons of the Microbe Killer, and do not hesitate to recommend it highly as a general blood purifier and tonic. It is especially good in cases of liver and kidney trouble, and is the only remedy I have yet found for nervous headache.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, contiued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. Is Money Scarce?

We are led to doubt the oft-repeated assertion that "money is scarce in this section," when we remember our experience in past spring seasons and realize that we are doing a fine business this spring. Trade is really good with us, and we wish our friends to continue to help us "keep the ball in motion." Our stock was never so attractive before, nor were prices as low on

WORD OF WARNING!

BEWARE OF FRAUDULENT IMITATIONS!

They are usually cheaper, as they use that method of imposing on the public. One of them held their price at $2.50 per gallon for nearly two years. Not being able to get their medicine in at that, they have now reduced it to $1.50, which is evidence enough that it has not met with success. A good medicine sustains itself in all communities. A cheap medicine is the last thing on earth a suffering man wants. The genuine sold only in one gallon jugs at $3.00 per gallon.

Cause of Disease, as Given by the Scientific Men of the Age.

Monsieur Pasteur, who for years has made them a special study, first discovered that minute insects were the causes of spreading the most deadly contagions through their astonishing rapidity of reproduction. Pasteur discovered them in myriads in human blood, in sheep and rabbits and rats. He found that the Microbe was the direct cause of the Variolosis, or Smallpox—Bronchitis, Yellow Fever and other contagious diseases.

The Microbe in the human system attacked by Variolosis is thread-like, cylindrical, somewhat swelled. It is the smallest of all powerful magnified animal organism. It breeds by the thousand per minute. Pasteur, after making a close study of the Microbe, discovered that the quickest way to exterminate them was by the free inhalation of Oxygen gas, or by liquids charged with that gas; but admits that the time must come when some powerful liquid will be discovered that will effectually destroy the Microbe, and that liquid must contain such gaseous combinations as will directly destroy, in the human body, those germs or microbes of disease.

Dr. Maolangan, a prominent member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, says:

The idea that many of the diseases to which man and the lower animals are subject result from the presence in the system of minute organisms or microbes, is not a new one

The introduction of the microscope, the discovery of the yeast plant, and the further parasitic nature of many cutaneous diseases have proved conclusively that it is attributable to the Germ or Microbe Theory of Disease

This theory has positively proved that many diseases are due to the presence and propagation in the system of minute living organizations. It is essential, therefore, to become thoroughly acquainted with the class, kind, very competence of the Germs that produce what is now termed the Phenomena of Disease.

Contagious Infection is created, by absolute experience and scientific experiments and proofs, by the existence of minute organisms or microbes The contagion, or microbe, being irregularly scattered about in the atmosphere, it is evident that the inhalation of one or more of these particles is purely a matter of chance Yet by such inhalation, no matter how healthy and strong the man or animal thus inhaling it, it will as a matter of course, be taken [illegible] or later, by the myriads of microbes that will, according to the contagious poisonous matter inhaled, breed into his system. To exterminate those it has been found that liquids strongly impregnated with gases and alkalis have been the most efficacious, and it is but a matter of time when a liquid strongly impregnated with those substances will be discovered that will effectually destroy the microbes or Germs of Disease

It is an organic form of such extreme minuteness as to be classified under the head of Micrococci. The Microbe is spheroidal, transparent and of gelatinous consistency. It enters the human system by inhalation, or exists in the water or milk we drink, or the food we eat. It is able to stand the greatest amount of heat. By the most careful study and frequent experiments, microbes have been inducted, by ivory needles, into meats that have been thoroughly roasted and boiled, and yet, when taken from the ovens, pans, gridirons or pots, the microbes have been found to be yet alive and propagating, thus showing that even cooking has no effect on them.

Prof. Tyndall says of Microbes: They are found in myriads and countless shapes, floating in the air, destroying man, as well as beasts and vegetation. The virtual triumph of the antiseptic system of surgery is based on recognition of living contagia or microbes, as the agent of purification; and, the discovery made, it behooves the closest study of the subject by the physician, surgeon, chemist, agriculturist, in fact by all men, to discover some powerful liquid substance, being charged with some so far undiscovered gaseous substance, that will penetrate through every tissue of the human animal or vegetable system, and effectually destroy the death-dealing pest, the microbe.

The word Microbe was first introduced by Prof. Charles Sedillot and indorsed by the great philologist Little, who caused its adaptation by the Academie de Sciences of France, and thus had it admitted as a scientific term to be used by all scientists.

Science has taught us that the direct causes of contagious diseases are directly attributable to a minute, invisible, yet death-dealing insect, feeding, living on the germs of corruption inhaled, absorbed in the system, whether human, animal or vegetable.

It is designated in Science as the Microbe: the most deadly of all animalculae, propagating millions, and spreading disease wherever it makes its appearance. The extermination of that curse to the human race has taxed the ablest scientists, who have devoted hours of study in each and every branch of their different researches, to check the frightful inroads made by the Microbe upon whatever it attacks.

Wm. Radam, a florist and a botanist of Austin, Texas, who, from his early boyhood, had been brought up to take care of and watch tenderly over the plants, seeding slips, that were extensively grown in his farther's world-famed nurseries, having frequently seen his favorite plants suddenly droop and die, was the first to make the Microbe his special study, and its extermination the object of his life.

Fortunately for William Radam, he was able to command the means that enabled him to purchase the instruments needed to perfect his experiment, as he patiently advanced in his studies of the microbe. He was not the man to rely merely on book learning, though he studied the theories advanced by scientists

William Radam, after years of patient study and analysis found the true origin of the Germs of Disease, and by a secret inspired by Nature's close study was able to produce what will be read below as the exterminator of the dreadful scourge Microbe—as recommended by the greatest authorities, and world-famed authorities, on that subject, who all admit that to exterminate the pest and scourge requires just such a liquid, surcharged with gases, as William Radam's Microbe Killer.

Testimonials.

Now read the testimonials and convince yourself if they are genuine or not. Please investigate, I will forfeit $1,000 if you find any of our testimonials not genuine. We will give address, so that you can write to any of them. Please do not forget to inclose a stamp, and you certainly will receive an answer. We have a great many other testimonials in our office and have the consent to show them to the afflicted—but have no authority to publish them. From the following testimonials you can see at a glance that this medicine cures every disease:

Consumption.

Pasadena, May 13, 1889.—Microbe Killer Co. I can recommend Radam's Microbe Killer for the cure of consumption. I have been sick four years I have employed the best physicians in San Francisco, San Jose, Los Angeles, and I am now taking my fifth jug of William Radam's Microbe Killer. I have gained fourteen pounds in three months, and I note a steady improvement. The medicine has accomplished more for me in the short time, I have tried it than all the doctors and the out lay of $7,000, and I hope all my friends who are afflicted in the same way I was will use it.

J. F. RENOULT.

Formerly of San Francisco, now a resident of Pasadena

Complicated Disease.

Sacramento, April 3, 1889.—Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: I take pleasure in adding my testimonials to that of others who have been cured by the virtue of your me icine. I have been afflicted for several years, and for the last three or four years have not been able to work, having been confined to my bed a good deal of my time. My system was so thoroughly poisoned from catarrh of over thirty years standing, in connection, with the alarming symptoms of malaria and diseased liver, that life was a burden. As a result, the liver, kidney, urinary organs, heart, bronchial tubes and lungs were all involved, causing dyspepsia, neuralgia and rheumatism, with many alarming indescribable symptoms. Have been under the care of physicians and taken all the popular patent physics and medicines of the day, and belt, batteries and baths without avail, and had almost given up hope of relief. Put one of God's good and perfect gifts to man (through the instrumentality of man) was made known to me by a letter to my wife from her father, a man of seventy-six, in Albany, Mo., stating that Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer was curing all diseases given up by physicians, and advising me to use it and not give it up until a cure is effected. Coming from the source it did, I at once had two gallons expressed from St. Joseph. Mo., costing me $8 per gallon. but the cheapest medicine I ever took. Commenced taking it in December last. Have taken seven gallons and have been improving slowly, but surely. Have now gained my usual weight, and feel better than for years. Am over 60 years of age. No money would induce me to be without it in my family. I hear many good reports from those who are now using it. Yours respectfully, etc.

L. L. GODDARD.

Dyspepsia

Lynchburg, Texas.—Messrs. Wallace O'Leary & Co., Agents Radam's Microbe Killer, Houston, Texas: My sufferings from dyspepsia and bayou fever made my life a misery, and at times I was so despondent as to care little to live, when I heard of your great medicine, and purchased a gallon. It gives me pleasure to inform you that before a gallon had been used $1,000 could not have bought the remainder of the gallon had I not known where to get more.

Yours truly,
CAPT. GEO. L. SMITH.

Dysentery.

Galveston, Texas, March 10, 1888.—A Behrends, Agent for Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer.—Dear Sir: I have been suffering for years with a complication of diseases which originated from diseased liver. I had dysentery, bloody flux and internal tumors. I consulted some of the most eminent physicians in the city, and used their medicines for a long time without getting any relief. I was finally given up to die, when a friend advised me to try the Microbe Killer. As the last resort, I gave it a trial, and the relief it gave me was wonderful. When I commenced to take Microbe Killer I weighed only eighty-six pounds; my present weight is 143 pounds, and I am restored to my usual good health.

JOHN W. DERRICK.

Sworn to and subscribed to before me this 10th day of March. A. D. 1888. JOHN A. CAPLEN,
Notary Public; Galveston Co. Tex.

San Marcos, Tex., Sept. 17, 1887.—Mr. William Radam—Dear Sir: The Microbe Killer, is a splendid thing. Can I get the agency here? My little boy that was affected with worms is cured and getting fat and rosy. My father is also using your medicine, and is improving very fast. Very respectfully,
MRS. ALICE LEE.

Deaf & Dumb Institute, Austin Texas, July 11, 1888—Mr. William Radam—Dear Sir: I certify that I have been a great sufferer with pains in my chest, catarrh in the head, and headache for years. I have spent hundreds of dollars in travelling in Colorado, Utah, California, Oregon, Montana, Wyoming and Minnesota, and found no relief. I have used four gallons of your medicine and I am almost entirely well. My headache and catarrh are gone. I am still using the medicine. I will send another gallon to my brother.
W. H. LACY, Superintendent

Houston, Texas, October 9, 1888.—Messrs. Wallace O'Leary & Co., Agents William Radam's Microbe Killer—Gentlemen: I have been using the Microbe Killer for malarial fever and general debility, and write you to certify that I am again strong and healthy, and am satisfied that Microbe Killer is a sure remedy for those diseases.

R. E. LEWIS,
Prop. Capital Stables.

Nashville, Tenn.—I have been a sufferer from Asthma, Catarrh and Bronchitis for nearly twenty years. I have tried the best physicians and remedies without any relief and now, since I have been taking Microbe Killer, I am entirely cured and can recommend it to all. M. HERNSSIN, J. P.
Nashville, Tenn.

To Whom it may Concern:—This is to certify that after taking one jug of Microbe Killer I was permantly cured of a severe attack of bronchitis and pulmonary inflammation, and illness having resisted all methods of medical treatment.

I cheerfully recommend Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer as being more than is claimed for it.
HENRY V. MIELLY,
With Rice Born & Co., 77 Camp street New Orleans, February 27, 1887.

The only case of Leprosy ever known to have been cured by any medicine. James Kavanagh, Jr., is now entirely recovered and is back again in New Orleans. We are treating five other cases of Leprosy, all successfully.

Fifth District, New Orleans, July 23, 1888—To whom it may concern: I positively assert that my son was afflicted with that most hideous and loathsome of diseases, Leprosy, and of a character most malignant. Any persons who may be skeptical regarding this case are most cordially invited to call and see him now, or at an early date at my residence, No. 167 Eliza St, Algiers, Fifth District of New Orleans, because if not seen soon and he continues to improve as he has since beginning to use Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer, they will not have an opportunity of giving an honest verdict concerning his case.

Resp't'y, James Kavanah.

Algiers, Fifth District of New Orleans, July 24, 1889.—I, the undersigned, do hereby declare that I have been afflicted with Leprosy for over four years. My sickness has been declared Leprosy by the leading physicians and the public generally, being entirely abandoned and left alone to die, but thanks to Mr. Radam, whose medicine or Microbe Killer I have been using for five weeks with the most beneficial results, I am satisfied that by continuing his great and wonderful remedy a few months longer I shall be able to go to work and support my poor and aged father, upon whom I have been a drawback in his declining years.
JAS. KAVANAGH, Jr.

Heart Disease.

Radam's Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: My son, 14 years of age, was cured with less than one gallon of Radam's Microbe Killer, after being given up by physicians as incurable with enlargement of the heart. My wife was also cured of a severe bronchial trouble after a failure on the part of the physicians to relieve her.

I confess it far superior to all known remedies.

R. B. KIRKPATRICK.
Sacramento, Cal., April 27, 1889.

Rheumatism.

Nov. 14, 1888.—The William Radam Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: Having tried every suggested remedy for Chronic Rheumatism for more than ten years, I was dubious as to the efficacy of your Microbe Killer, but am frank to admit that a cure, (and I hope a permanent one) was the result after having taken not quite the entire jug you sent me according to directions. Accept my thanks. I am dear sir, respectfully yours,
FRANCIS P. DOOLY.
Knoxville, Pa.

New York, Sept. 25, 1888—Wm. Radam Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: In reply to your inquiry as to the effect the Microbe Killer had on me, I would say that if it cost me $100 per gallon, I would not be without it. I took it three weeks, and am now free of all pains and aches. I suffered for the past ten years with muscular rheumatism, and it has been so bad at times as to prevent my attending to business. Very truly yours,
JOHN BLAKEY,
233 Broadway, N. Y.

Kidney Troubles.

Philadelphia, March 30, 1889, S. E. Corner Fourth and Market Streets.—Wm. Radam—Dear Sir:—I have had kidney troubles for three years, accompanied with pains and aching across my back and hips. Suffered very much at times; at night I had pains across the lower part of the abdomen; had considerable inflammation at the neck of the bladder. In general, it almost broke me up. I could get no relief from anything I had taken until I commenced with your Microbe Killer. I feel now like a new person; I will further explain my case to any one writing me. Would advise any one with any disease of the kidneys to use the Microbe Killer.
ELWOOD PICKETT.

Piles.

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 15, 1889.—By using Radam's Microbe Killer I have been cured of piles of many years standing.
JOHN LATHEM,
Room 2, Opera House Building.

Frightful Torture

By the ravages of Rheumatism can be stopped with slight cost if you use Radam's Microbe Killer. By external as well as internal treatment you get almost instant relief.

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER CO.:

Dear Sirs:—Having suffered with Rheumatism of the nerves for three years, I used five gallons of the Microbe Killer, and I feel entirely cured. I have the greatest confidence in recommending its use, and will keep it on hand as a general tonic. If you desire you can refer any suffering from same disease to me. Respectfully,
MRS. W. L. DELACY,
Oak Park, Ill.

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER CO.:

Gentlemen:—I have had your medicine, Microbe Killer, in my family ever since I heard of it last summer. My health has been excellent ever since I began taking it. My family, so far, has escaped la grippe that has been afflicting our neighbors and every body else. I firmly believe in the Microbe theory, and shall never be without the Killer.

THURSDAY.....MAY 1, 1890

The Young Men's Christian Association.

The District Committee of the 5th District has appointed the meeting of the Second Convention of the District to be held at Fayetteville May 29th to June 1st, inclusive.

The committee has prepared an elaborate programme, and have secured a number of speakers and workers to take a part in the same, whose very presence will give assurance of success, if the Associations in our District will send a full delegation to assist.

The glorious work of the Convention at Maxton a year ago is fresh in our memory, and its results are not yet all gathered. We trust, through the blessing of God, that this may be a gathering of similar power, and to this end urgently impress upon all the Christian people, and especially members and active workers of the Associations of the District, to unite their prayers and efforts for the success of the meeting.

We would urge upon every Association to be ably and fully represented at the Convention, and that the towns in which no Associations exist be represented by Christian men, who have at heart the best interest of the young manhood of the State, that there may be carried into every home in the fifteen southeastern counties of North Carolina a full appreciation of the benefit to be derived from this grand work by the young men of our land. We anticipate with pleasure the great treat in store in meeting with the hospitable people of Fayetteville; but uppermost in our minds is the desire that the Holy Spirit may be there in all His power to enable us all to re-consecrate ourselves to the work of the Master, and to fit and qualify us for the great work of laboring for the salvation of young men.

We confidently expect business men and all others to lay aside for a brief period their ordinary vocations, and come to the Convention, and help us plan our work in the cause in which we are enlisted.

Sincerely submitted,

Committee of 5th District.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., April 20, 1890.

To the Young Men's Christian Association and Christian Workers of the Wilmington (5th) District of North Carolina:

CHRISTIAN BRETHREN:—The 2nd annual District Young Men's Christian Association Convention will hold its sessions in this town May 29th and June 1st inclusive. The sessions will be held in the Tabernacle—first session Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Railroad rates can be ascertained by applying to the agent at your station.

We expect at least seventy-five or one hundred delegates, and in order that ample provision be made for their entertainment each association is requested to forward names of delegates actually expecting to attend to Dr. J. W. McNeill, Chairman Entertainment Committee, not later than May 24th.

Members of the Reception Committee, designated by badges, will be in attendance on the arrival of the different trains and boats, and will escort the delegates to our Rooms, where assignment will be made to the homes of our citizens by the Committee on Entertainment.

In any locality in the District where there is no Association organized, the ministers or any christian who has the interest of the Association at heart will be considered an accredited delegate by sending his name to Dr. J. W. McNeill, aforesaid. Ministers all over the District are especially invited. We are looking forward for glorious results, not only for our own town but for the whole District, and all may rest assured that a hearty welcome to Fayetteville awaits you.

Confident that our meeting together will be for the mutual help and blessing of every one who attends the Convention, and that the Holy Spirit will lead us in all things pertaining to our grand work throughout the entire District, we remain

An Important Movement by the University Alumni.

For the Observer.]

A very important movement is on foot to secure hearty and practical cooperation between the University and the Alumni.

The University is necessarily dependent mainly upon its Alumni for friendship, counsel and criticism; and the Alumni have shown themselves by no means regardless of the claims of their Alma Mater. But hitherto there has been no systematic, organized, practical working connection between the University and her Alumni. There is a movement on foot to remedy this. Wednesday of Commencement week has been set apart as Alumni Day; and, besides the annual Banquet and Reunion, there will be a regular business meeting for the discussion of plans and methods of increasing the patronage, enlarging the endowment, strengthening the spirit, and exalting the work of the institution.

This year a memorial address will be delivered by R. H. Battle, Esq., on Dr. Chas. Phillips, and the Alumni oration will be by Col. W. H. S. Burgwyn, of Henderson.

The best results should attend this movement, and, in order to make it efficient, it is earnestly desired that every Alumnus of the University who can possibly do so will attend the approaching Commencement.

Branch Alumni associations are now in process of organization in the leading cities and towns of the State, and have already been organized in Raleigh and Goldsboro. President Battle hopes soon to visit Fayetteville, Greensboro, Charlotte, Winston, Durham and other places, to aid in the formation of the associations.

For the Observer.]

EDITORS OBSERVER:—That merry and appreciative party of excursionists who were so fortunate as to avail themselves of the courteous invitation of Col. W. S. Cook of the Cape Fear Steamboat Company to take in the Wilmington railroad opening ceremonies, as guests of the steamer Murchison, desiring to make a public recognition of their appreciation, held a full meeting on board, and organized by calling a "mighty clever man" to the chair, who appointed a select committee to draft a set of resolutions expressing their happiness. The committee retired to the sideboard (as usual) and soon returned. After listening to their eloquence it was

Resolved, That the excited and overflowing thanks of the entire crowd be extended to Col. Cook and the officials of his line for their perfect hospitality and kind and gentle treatment of all under the circumstances.

Resolved further, That as the trip from Fayetteville to Wilmington by steamer has always been one of the most desirable and pleasant known to mankind, we would advise everybody and their folks to travel that way whenever they can.

Some objection was made to this resolution by some of the very conservative and not too sober guests, fearing that it might affect the sale of the bonds of the railroad and render them worthless, besides giving offense to the railroad syndicate. On explanation, however, that the road running parallel with the river to Wilmington was constructed by a number of patriotic and philanthropic North Carolina citizens solely for patriotic and philanthropic motives, it was unanimously agreed to and adopted with the following amendment: That we advise as above, 1st, because all the officers and crews of the several steamers are Fayetteville folks and live among us; 2ndly, without the steamers on the river the railroads would naturally do us as they do others, charge us all we could pay and live; 3rdly, steamers are very nice things to travel on, as they carry side-boards with sugar and nutmeg on board to take the taste out of your mouth when you get sick and have to take medicine; 4thly, experience has proved that the officers of the line are so very clever that they will pay your bills at the hotels and wait for you besides, in order to accommodate their guests; 5thly, "competition being the life of trade," it behooves us to keep up the competition. At this point reasons were offered in such abundance that the committee of the whole concluded to rise and cut short all further debate, by proposing to adjourn to the side-board and drink to the long life, prosperity, happiness and success of the Cape Fear Steamboat Company and its mighty clever, gentlemanly officials: "so say we all of us."

The Mississippi Flood.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., April 25.—A Times-Democrat Bayou Sara special referring to the great Morgansea crevasse says: Here the water of the river is only about a foot or less below the crown of the levees, which at the break was 26 feet high with a base of over two hundred feet. The break is now some fifteen hundred feet wide, and it is caving off at the lower end at the rate of three hundred feet in 24 hours. Capt. Kingman estimated the discharge through this crevasse at over 150,000 cubic feet per second, and as his calculation was based on a breach little over twelve hundred feet wide, it can readily be understood how rapidly the discharge is increasing. Average cost of this levee was $10 per running foot, so that at the present rate of caving the lower end is wasting away at the rate of $3,000 per day. Every effort should be used to protect what remains of the Morgansea with as little delay as possible. The United States steamer Ruby with a gang of thirty men is engaged securing supply willows for mattresses.

The stories of suffering, danger and loss of life in this overflowed district are, to say the least, premature. That a financial calamity has fallen upon this splendid section of Louisiana is unfortunately too true, but the attempt to color it with tragedy is manifestly absurd. Thus far some stock has been drowned, and it is impossible to say how serious the loss of stock may be in the interior, but even now there are many who will not take the trouble to have their stock removed, though they are absolutely sure to be overtaken by the rising backwater within the next few days. Fortunately the water from the great Morgansea crevasse falls into an immense uninhabited swamp less than one hundred yards from the base of the levee, and it is sheer nonesense to suppose that it will overtake any one who has not had ample warning of its approach. Its course will lie largely through Atchafalaya, which by this time should be prepared for any emergency. This misfortune is enough, but it is not a matter over which people have any cause to become hysterical. The current statement that there has been a general surrender along the line of defense is wholly erroneous: Captain Kingman is working as hard as ever to hold what is left of the levee, and the only portion of his forces that have been withdrawn is made up of planters and settlers, who have been driven by the overflow to turn their attention to saving what they can of their property.

KENANSVILLE, N. C., Ap'l 26, '90.

MESSRS. EDS:—Death had not visited our happy little town during the year; and it was quite a shock to everyone yesterday morning when it was announced that Mr. Thomas Shearer Watson was dead. He had been unwell for some time, and had just returned from a visit to his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Shearer, Jr., in Wilmington; they were telegraphed for, and arrived last night. The funeral services will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and he will be buried with Masonic honors. Mr. Watson had in this State many warm friends, who loved and admired him for his many noble traits of character, and will mourn his sudden departure. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church, and came to this country from Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1857—having made Kenansville his home for more than thirty years.

Mr. Robert Hargraves returned last night from the convention of the Masons at Teachey's.

Capt. J. G. Kenan spent a day or two in Wilmington last week.

Mr. Paul Brown has bidden us good-bye for a two months' trip south.

Interesting meetings are held about twice a month by the young people of Magnolia, at which medals, furnished by a prohibition society, are given for the best recitations. Rev. Colin Shaw and Mr. William Newbury are among the prominent leaders.

Mrs. Stephen Farrior, of Magnolia, is visiting relatives in town.

A SHOPLIFTER'S EXPERIENCES.

Three Incidents from the Life of a Skillful Female Thief.

From a curious source two or three incidents in the life of a professional thief may be set down here. They might be termed confessions of a shoplifter.

Stores in both Allegheny and Pittsburg have suffered by the depredations of a remarkably skillful thief, who is a woman. She prides herself on her skill in shoplifting, and it is from her mouth that the following narrative originally came:

Once she visited a large store in Allegheny and asked to be shown some expensive cloaks. The goods were brought out and the stylish looking shopper took off the jacket she wore and tried on a cloak. She was not entirely satisfied with it, she said, and the saleswoman who was waiting upon her went off to another part of the store to get some more cloaks. This was the thief's chance. She walked away, leaving her jacket as a token of her regard. On the stairs—the cloak department was on the second floor—she met one of the owners of the store.

"Have you been waited upon?" he asked politely.

"Yes, thank you, and I am very well satisfied with this cloak," she replied, and sailed on. She escaped.

Another time she visited a shoe store in Pittsburg. She had a small foot and was proud of it. It was no easy matter to please her, the affable young salesman found. The stock of fine ladies' shoes was ransacked to suit her taste. It was all in vain, for she departed without buying anything. Under her dress were two more shoes than a woman can wear, however.

When she looked at the stolen shoes after returning home she found that they were not mates. She was very much annoyed; in fact, the discovery took away her appetite for supper.

The next afternoon found her in the shoe store again. "The shoes you sold me the other day," she said to the salesman, who was not the one who had tried to suit her fastidious taste the day before, "are not mates, and will you kindly change them?"

The store was crowded—shoplifters seldom venture into an empty store—and the young man hurried off at once without further inquiry. In another minute he returned with a pair of shoes properly mated and gave them to the supposed customer. She did not stay to give thanks for the gift.

Once only did her confidence, some would call it impudence, desert her.

She visited a store one morning with the intention of appropriating some ostrich plumes. As usual, she was very particular about the quality of the feathers; she would look at none costing less than $6 or $7 apiece. But although the best feathers in the store were brought out for her inspection, she found none that was long enough, heavy enough or black enough to suit her. She apologized sweetly to the young woman behind the counter for the trouble she had given her, and promised to call again when the new consignment—which, of course, was coming next week—should arrive.

As she was leaving the store she became aware that she had dropped something, and she looked behind her. A fine ostrich feather lay on the floor; it had slipped from under the cloak where the thief had concealed it, or to be more precise, it had not gone into the deep pocket in the cloak specially designed for its reception.

She hesitated for a second, loth to leave her prey, and yet afraid to stoop down and take it. Her assurance was not great enough to carry her through the second theft, and she left the store. The feather was not noticed till she had gone.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The First Colored Nurse.

Miss Minnie Hogan, a colored girl, has finished the two years' course in the Training School for Nurses of the University of Pennsylvania, with great success. Her treatment while at the training school was of the best. Miss Hogan was a pupil of the Institute for Colored Youth, and received a letter of indorsement from Mrs. Coffin, the principal, at the time of entering upon her course of study. The colored people of the city take great pride and interest in this, the first of their race to graduate from this institution. The opening of the doors of the different departments of the University of Pennsylvania has served as a great incentive to the colored young men and women and each year more are availing themselves of the advantages offered, and they are succeeding creditably in their efforts at self improvement. —New York Telegram.

Lime for a Refrigerator.

It is stated that the unpleasant smell which not infrequently makes a refrigerator disagreeable can, if the smell arises from dampness, be remedied and prevented by placing some fresh quicklime on a plate inside the refrigerator. The lime, which absorbs one-third its weight of moisture, not only dries the air, but increases in no small measure the effect of the coolness of the ice.—Montreal Star.

Improvement.

Mr. S. J. Walton is making extensive and attractive additions to his already desirable residence on West Hay street.

Memorial Day Marshals.

Messrs. Jno. G. Shaw and W. B. Malloy are among the assistant marshals for the approaching Memorial exercises. In copying the list from Mr. Roddick's memorandum book the names were inadvertently overlooked last week.

In Abundance.

Fayetteville has been an excellent inland fish market this season. Besides very fine shad, rock, etc., in abundance, the yellow and black perch are being caught in considerable quantities from both river and pond—and they make a breakfast dish fit for a king.

A Liberal Percentage.

Of the total receipts of naval stores received by all steamers and railroad lines in Wilmington on Saturday, 26th ult., the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway carried in 31 per cent. of the spirits of turpentine, 32 per cent. of the rosin and 52 per cent. of the tar.

Fayetteville Real Estate Association.

The Fayetteville Real Estate Association was revived on the 23rd ult. by the election of the following officers:

President—Jno. B. Broadfoot.
Treasurer—B. R. Taylor.
Secretary—T. M. Hunter.
Directors—Jno. B. Broadfoot, H. W. Lilly, B. R. Taylor, E. L. Pemberton, T. M. Hunter, R. M. Nimocks, W. S. Cook.

Gypsum Bed.

Mr. R. L. Bryan, of Bladen, has shown us specimens of gypsum found on his place in White Oak township, in the vicinity of Harrison's Landing. Some time ago Dr. Dabney, State Chemist, made a careful examination of samples placed in his possession, with satisfactory results. It is believed, from examination, that gypsum exists in this bed in very considerable quantities, and that future developments will prove of great importance to Mr. Bryan.

The Canning Factory.

The Fayetteville Canning Factory will be in readiness in every respect for its work at the maturity of the truck and fruit season, and will engage more largely than ever in the canning of fruit and vegetables. Their goods have, so far as we have been able to learn, given unqualified satisfaction, and market gardeners will do well to pitch their crops with a view to disposing of a portion of their produce to the managers of this enterprise. Those having spare patches of ground could not better utilize them than by devoting them to the tomato.

Shot by an Officer.

We learn that on Friday last one of the deputies of Sheriff McEachern, of Robeson county, shot a Croatan Indian at Red Banks. The officer had gone to arrest the latter, who resisted, and was shot down. We learn later that the Croatan, whose name was Lochlear, and who was of kin to the Lowreys, died soon after being shot by officer Townsend. Lochlear had been before a justice of the peace on trial for some offense, at the conclusion of which he was bound over to Superior Court in the sum of $200, in default of which he was to be taken to jail—and it was in desperate resistance to the execution by Townsend of the order of the court that the prisoner received the fatal wound.

The Dying of Fruit Trees.

The rapid decadence of the fruit orchards—especially peach orchards—in this section is very noticeable, and a natural cause thereof has been given us by a close observer. The large percentage of the area now devoted to fruit-raising has been planted in grafted trees for the past ten or fifteen years, seedlings being comparatively rare. This is natural, as one planting an orchard desires to realize from his labors as soon as possible; but it is nevertheless true that, while a peach tree grown from the seed is good as a bearer for an average lifetime, the trees from graft are limited in their usefulness to four or five years. In this vicinity we could easily designate scores of fine seedlings which have been delighting generation after generation growing up about the homestead until the boy has become the gray-haired man and they are faithful to the seasons still.

Religious Notes.

Rev. F. D. Swindell, Presiding Elder of the Wilmington District, occupied the pulpit of the Hay Street Methodist Church on Sunday evening last, holding in delighted interest his auditors by a masterly effort it was our good fortune to hear: his theme the surpassing love of the Father and Son, as revealed in the plan of redemption. Few public speakers attain such grace and polish of delivery and bearing as characterize every movement of Mr. Swindell in the pulpit. His discourse evinces the trained scholarship and intimate knowledge of the Bible of the careful student, while embellished throughout with imagery simple but beautiful, and a style and diction strictly in accord with correct taste. We can well believe Mr. Swindell to be a powerful agent for good in the responsible and exalted position which he fills in his church, for his personality must be as winning and gentle almost as a woman's. At the close of the sermon a fervent and eloquent prayer was offered by Rev. P. Greening.

Rev. Father Francis conducted divine services in St. Patrick's Church last Sunday, and at night a congregation that completely filled the building listened to the scholarly priest's able and impressive continued exposition of the morning's subject: the Lord the Shepherd of his people.

In the absence of the Rector, Rev. Thos. Atkinson, the Sunday morning services in St. John's Episcopal Church were read by Hon. R. P. Buxton, of the Vestry.

The regular services were held in the 1st Baptist and Presbyterian Churches, Revs. W. B. Oliver and T. P. Barclay preaching impressively to large congregations—the former, on account of fatigue from his arduous labors in Wilmington during the week and the funeral exercises in the afternoon, omitting the night services.

The Preservation of the Pine.

A short time since Capt. A. Garrason, of this city, contributed to the Farmer and Scottish Chief a very well-considered article on the importance of taking steps looking to the preservation of the long-leaf pine in the turpentine belt of this State. His suggestions appeared to us valuable and his points well-taken, and it is certain that posterity would honor the wisdom of their fathers which had devised an effectual plan for preventing the utter destruction and obliteration of a great natural growth which furnishes one of the staple articles of commerce.

It is unreasonable to suppose that, of all the woods of the forest, the long-leaf pine alone is incapable of reproducing itself from the mast, or that a tree permitted to attain its maturity from the seed develops into a different order of vegetable growth. The green slip of the long leaf pine, just starting from the earth, is, with its tender roots, very succulent, and is eagerly devoured by hogs, while they pass by that of the short-leaf pine, which is hard, acrid and fibrous.

We believe that the land-owners in the territory of the pine would universally welcome with pleasure any plan which would insure the protection of the young growth; and, as this is peculiarly the food with hogs running at large, we believe such adequate protection could be accomplished.

There are several noticeable instances in Robeson and Moore counties of the preservation of the young trees in enclosures—trees which are known to have grown from the seed, and are now splendid specimens of the round long-leaf pine.

Meeting of Clerks.

A large number of the young men acting as clerks in the different business houses of the city met in the Town Hall on Friday evening last at 8 o'clock. On motion, Maj. W. F. Campbell was called to the chair, and Mr. Chas. Hedgepeth was chosen secretary.

On motion of Mr. C. L. Campbell a committee on permanent organization was appointed, as follows: W. B. McMillan, C. L. Campbell, Jno. K. Strange, R. L. Holland and W. M. Thomas; on motion of Mr. Jno. K. Strange the chairman was added to the committee.

A committee, consisting of B. C. Gorham, J. A. Vann and J. H. Culbreth, was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws for the consideration of a future meeting. On motion, Mr. A. D. McMillan was added to the committee.

A committee was appointed for the purpose of presenting a petition, signed by the clerks generally, to the business men of Fayetteville, respectfully asking the general closing of stores at 7 P. M., from May 1st to September 1st—the result of this action to be submitted to the meeting on Wednesday (last) night.

We had the pleasure of being present, by invitation, at the meeting, and were impressed with the interest manifested and the admirable spirit displayed. The organization of a clerks' guild or association carries with it no objectionable feature, in our judgment, and may be attended by very substantial advantages to those composing its membership—in systematizing and utilizing the time at their disposal for recreation, increasing their facilities for profitable reading, etc. The hour at which our paper goes to press precludes the possibility of a report of the proceedings of last night's meeting.

Col. Wharton J. Green.

We cheerfully surrender much of our editorial space this week to a communication from "Cumberland" eloquently presenting the claims and strongly advocating the nomination of Col. Wharton J. Green for Congress. A better selection could not be made, and the OBSERVER, like Cumberland, would be delighted to see one of her most worthy and competent sons thus honored.

Your Attention, Please.

We call special attention to the new advertisements of Messrs. Rose & Leak, Geo. Brandt, A. J. Pemberton & Co., Scott & Makepeace, H. Whaley, H. I. McDuffie and W. J. McDonald, Jr.

Carried to the Asylum.

Sheriff J. B. Smith on Monday last carried to the Asylum at Raleigh Mrs. Faircloth, an unfortunate woman, violently insane, who has been for some time confined in the county jail.

District Convention.

From Mr. A. McBuie, a member of the Executive Committee of this District, a telegram received yesterday afternoon from Magnolia, where the executive committee was in session, announces that the Congressional Convention will be held in Clinton on the 23rd of July.

The Norfolk & Western R. R.

Mr. Jno. M. Rose, Secretary of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway, has our thanks for a map—most excellent in execution and accurate in detail—of the Norfolk & Western R. R. system, its branches, connections, termini, etc. It is of more than ordinary interest to us, as the connection of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley with the Norfolk & Western R. R., which is now a matter of only a few months at farthest, means direct, speedy all-rail communication with Cincinnati and other great cities of the West. Even a cursory glance at this map shows how direct is the line from Wilmington, through Fayetteville, on to Cincinnati—the deflection being only slight at Mt. Airy and beyond.

An Hour of Congratulation and Rejoicing.

Out-door Fayetteville at the dinner hour—1 to 2 P. M.—is generally devoted to business and utterly absorbed in the sordid cares of this life; but yesterday the very air seemed to be pulsating with the melody of wedding bells, and redolent with the fragrance of orange blossom and festal wreath, while the thoroughfares were thronged with the presence of our pretty women and children, who generally bless us with their presence on the streets later in the afternoon—all aglow with enthusiasm evoked by the two weddings within a half hour and a quarter of a mile of each other. The depot was crowded as it has rarely been before, the two wedding pairs departing amidst the good wishes and congratulations of their hundreds of friends.

Patterson—King.

At 2 P. M., on yesterday, in the Hay Street Methodist Church, Rev. C. W. Byrd, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. W. B. Oliver, pastor of the 1st Baptist Church, with Messrs. J. A. King, Q. K. Nimocks, A. B. McIver and E. H. Eubanks as ushers, Dr. G. B. Patterson was married to Miss Hettie N. King. There were no attendants, but the ceremony was simple, impressive and beautiful, the floral decorations handsome and the music fine—the wedding march, with Miss Mary Warwick organist, assisted by Mr. W. S. Sheetz, with cornet.

The bride and groom are both of this city—the latter a prominent dental surgeon, and the former a lovely and accomplished young lady—and this union should be rich in blessing and the good gifts of fortune, for it is hallowed by the purest and most fervent hopes for their happiness by many friends.

Dr. and Mrs Patterson took the westbound train on the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railway at 2:15 P. M. to make a visit at Richmond, N. C., the former home of Dr. Patterson.

Walton—Moore.

A magnificent pyramid of rare flowers gracing the broad pulpit platform of the Presbyterian Church, supported by ornate floral vases on either side, with a tasteful background of evergreen, greeted the entrance of the elegant bridal party, to the splendid organ music rendered by Mrs. W. G. Hall, and enhanced the beauty of the impressive and solemn rite which, at 2 P. M., on yesterday, united in marriage Mr. W. E. Walton, of Morganton, N. C., who has attained prominence and distinction in his profession, and Miss Mamie Moore, daughter of Mr. A. Moore, of this city, whose graces of person and character have rendered her so charming.

Marshaled by the ushers—Messrs. W. G. Moore, J. D. Williams, Jr. (2), McKee Barclay and Harry Smith—the bridal party advanced to their places in front of the pulpit along each aisle in inverse order:

Miss Mary Haigh, Capt. J. C. Huske.
Miss Laura Thomson, Mr. James R. Williams.
Miss Emma Belle Williams, Capt. W. H. Pemberton.
Miss Kate Fairley, Mr. C. L. Campbell.
Miss Annie Moore, Mr. A. W. Wilson.
Miss Mamie Bidgood, Mr. T. J. Whitted.
Miss Janie Williams, Mr. I. T. Avery.
Miss Mary Webb, Dr. J. A. Hodges.

After the attendants came the bride, escorted by her brother, Mr. J. W. Moore, and the groom accompanied by his "best man," Mr. F. O. Walton.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. H. G. Hill, whose prefatory remarks were exceedingly graceful and appropriate, and the prayer was made by Rev. T. P. Barclay. Mr. and Mrs. Walton departed at 2:15 P. M. on a northern tour.

The bridal party were delightfully entertained on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. A. Moore, where many rich and useful gifts in pictures, bric-a-brac, silver service, bijouterie, etc., were displayed.

Confederate Veterans—Notice.

The Confederate Veterans of Cumberland County—and all other Confederates who will join us—are requested to meet in the Town Hall, Fayetteville, N. C., Monday, May 12th, at 2:30 P. M., to take part in the Memorial exercises.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance. By order of

E. J. EDWARDS, Pres't.
E. M. WADDILL, Sec'y.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Monday, May 12th, 1890.

PROGRAMME.

The procession will form at 4 P. M. on Hay Street in front of the Park House in the following order:

Chief Marshal and Assistants.
Fayetteville Cornet Band.
Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry.
Ex-Confederate Soldiers.
Orator and Chaplain.
Veterans' Carriages.
Ladies' Memorial Association.
Officers of Ladies' Memorial Association.
Schools, &c.
Civic Societies and Lodges.
Citizens on foot and in carriages.

The column will move down Hay Street to Green thence to cemetery.

Ceremonies will be conducted in the following order:

Decoration of Graves.
Hymn by Novitzky's Nine.
Prayer by the Chaplain, Rev. W. B. Oliver.
Hymn by Novitzky's Nine.
Address by Mr. Walter H. Neal.
Music by Fayetteville Cornet Band.
Salute by the Military.

All are requested to form promptly at 4 o'clock, in order that the procession may move promptly at 4:30 P. M.

The merchants are earnestly requested to close their places of business during the exercises.

The sextons of the different churches are requested to toll the bells while the procession is moving.

JOHN RODDICK,
Chief Marshal.

Will Go to Richmond.

At a meeting of the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry in their armory Monday night it was decided and unanimously agreed that the Company would attend the ceremonies in Richmond, Va., on the 29th inst, incident to the unveiling of the Lee monument. The Company will carry between thirty and forty uniformed men, and possibly fifty. The occasion will be a grand one, an interesting one, a profitable one; and we sincerely hope that the Independent Company, which was among the first to answer to the roll-call of duty, in the defence of a government which had there its head, will go "one hundred strong." Around the beautiful, attractive and historic city of Richmond cluster hallowed memories of the long ago, memories of daring deeds and heroism and valor that will command the respect and admiration of every true and loyal son of Dixie.

Complimentary.

At the coming meeting of the South Carolina State Dental Association, which convenes in Charleston this month, our townsman, Dr. T. M. Hunter, has been invited to attend and deliver a lecture on his new mode of molding and impression-making for the mouth. Dr. Hunter stands high in his profession, and the OBSERVER is glad to see this token of appreciation of his well-balanced thought by the South Carolina dentists. He has been President of the N. C. Dental Association and filled several other important offices connected with the association from time to time. He is no less public-spirited than proficient in his chosen profession as well as a firm believer in printers' ink, having kept a card in the OBSERVER for ten years in succession, which he says has proven one of his most satisfactory and remunerative investments.

The New York Life.

The above-named staunch and popular life insurance company is represented in this and the adjacent counties by our townsman, H. I. McDuffie, Esq., who tells us that during the past two years he has placed over $275,000 of insurance in his territory. Many of the leading merchants and farmers in and around here, he tells us, have taken out policies with him of late and are well pleased with their investment. Only forty-five years have been passed in accumulating the vast amount of $105,053,600 net assets by this company—a pretty good recommendation for acquiring assets, to say the least of it.

Graded School Report.

The following names are entitled to be placed, for the 8th month, on the

ROLL OF HONOR:

Girls—Misses Maggie Moore, Kate Davis, Mary Lamb, Marion Sedberry, Gertrude Smith, Florie Vann, Sallie Moore, Kate Broadfoot, Mittie Buie, Torrie Buie, Nellie Monaghan, Eula M. McDonald, Maggie Small, Bertie Melvin, Lillie Muse, Lillie Slocomb, Alice Vann, Irene Johnson, Nannie Kinlaw, Luola Moore, Minnie Green, May Etta Driver, Etta Bell Clark, Alice Johnson, Retta Lee, Stella Muse, Laura Otterbourg, Irene Saunders, Morgie Sellars, Etta Saunders, Jennie Ingram, Laura Schlossberg, Katie Warwick, Janie Vaughn.

Boys—John McKethan, Roy McDuffie, Chas. Haigh, Tom Moore, John Schlossberg, Edwin Cole, Hoagland Davis, Chas. Rose, Stansbury Monroe, Verner Moore, John Atkinson, Timothy Ward, Thomas Wright, Ira Kinlaw, Paul Watson, Starr Owen, Harvey Green, Peter Kinlaw, John Otterbourg, Absalom Powell, Gus Schlossberg, Max Solomon, Hiram Cole.

The attendance during the past month has been fair. While our doors are always open, and we are glad at all times to have friends and patrons visit us, we extend a special invitation to those interested in the school and its work to be present at any time during the closing week, commencing May 12th. B. C. MCIVER, Sup't.

April 30th, 1890.

"A Thing of Beauty."

A new and handsome prescription counter now graces the interior of the popular drug store of Messrs T. W, Broadfoot & Co.

Superior Court.

The May term of Superior Court of Cumberland county—two weeks—convenes next Monday, his Honor Judge Brown on the benceh, and Mr. Frank McNeill solicitor.

Mr. J. H. Walker, of Louisville, Ky., is in the city, spending a month with his family.

Averasboro Memorial Exercises.

The ladies in charge have requested us to announce that the Memorial services in honor of our "brave boys in gray," who fell so nobly in the battle of Averasboro will be held on Saturday, May 10th, at Chicora Cemetery, near Mr. W. Douglas Smith's, in upper Cumberland. Rev. Mr. Jennett, of Dunn, will be the orator ot the day, and will be ably assisted by the Rev. Eugene L. Siler, Chaplain of the association, with Mrs W. Doug. Smith as President, and Mrs A. J. D. McKay, Misses Fannie McBryde and Rosa Smith as Vice-Prests. This association has done a noble and patriotic work, and under the management of such chivalrous and patriotic specimens of Southern womanhood the exercises on the 10th could not be otherwise than a success. The decorations will commence about 4 p. m., and it is to be hoped that a very large number will respond and do honor and pay tribute to our Confederate dead.

Personal Pencilings.

Miss Lou Faison has been making a visit to Capt. and Mrs. J. S. Evans, on Haymount.

Mr. D'Lagnel Haigh, with Meyer Bros. & Co., of St. Louis, Missouri, is paying a visit to his former home.

Miss Hattie McQueen, who has many friends and admirers in Fayetteville, was in the city on Tuesday—looking charming.

Messrs. F. O. Walton, of Burlington, N. C., I. T. Avery, of Morganton, N. C., and A. W. Wilson of Knoxville, Tenn., visited Fayetteville this week.

Mr. J. R. Williams, Secretary and Treasurer of the Fayetteville Printing and Publishing Company, has returned from a business trip north.

Mr. Alex. Fairly, of Tarboro, has been spending a few days in the city, much to the delight of his many friends here.

Miss Carrie Baker has gone to Brunswick, Ga., to spend a few months with her father and brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam'l Haas, who have been for some time residing in Fayetteville, guests at the Hotel LaFayette, left via the west-bound train on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway on Monday afternoon, the latter to remain for a time with friends at Culpeper, Va. During their stay here they won many friends who deeply regret their departure.

We don't suppose that we are quite as glad as Mr. Charles Huske is himself to see him so far recovered as to ride out and even take a short walk in good weather—but very near it. His friends have been full of solicitude during his long illness, and rejoice that he is now so well on to the restration of good health. Mr. Huske is an illustration of what a Northern blizzard can do when in robust health: he was exposed at Tuxedo Park to the fearful storm which cost Roscoe Conkling his life.

DIED.

EMMETT—At her home at Hope Mills, N. C., March 26, 1890, Mrs. ISABELLA EMMETT, wife of J. W. Emmett, in the 54th year of her age. The deceased was a faithful and life-long member of the Rockfish Presbyterian Church, and leaves five children, a husband and many warm friends to mourn her death.

"There is no death! The leaves may fall,
And flowers may fade and pass away;
They only wait through wintry hours
The coming of the May."

HOLMES—JAMES HOLMES, born December 30th, 1819, died April 16th, 1890. Deceased was a member of the Baptist Church at Lebanon—joined while in good health and tried to serve his Maker. A good man gone. He leaves a wife and two children.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

MANY THANKS, GENTLEMEN!

MESSRS. EDITORS:—During the past year I have been fairly competing with representatives of other good Insurance Companies for the Life business of this town, and while a goodly number of our citizens have selected Companies represented by persons from abroad, the large majority have seen fit to place their insurance with resident agents, knowing that the best companies in existence are represented by them; and to those who have so kindly thus favored me, I desire to tender my grateful thanks, and to assure them that I will take care of their interests, and that the NEW YORK LIFE will give them as large returns for their investment as any company could.

Thanking you, gentlemen, for your patronage, I am

Your obedient servant,

THE LOVER'S SOLILOQUY.

If I were a bird in yonder tree,
All day long I'd sing for thee;
I'd praise those eyes of matchless blue,
And all my songs would be for you.

If I were the rose that nestles down
Soft in your hair of golden brown,
I'd droop against your neck so fair,
And be happy—while I nestled there.

But, alas! I'm neither bird nor flower,
They are happy by the hour;
I am only a man with salary small,
And only amount to nothing at all.

SPRING IS HERE.

The pickerel now comes up the stream,
The hens have redder combs,
The moonstruck youths have warmer dreams,
The editor gets "pomes."

The housewife talks of cleaning day,
The husband begins to think
Of some device to run away,
And rather take to drink,

The garter snake has wriggled out
To sun itself and thaw,
And evidence is all about
That nature's come to taw.

Plowing Land Wet.

Prairie Farmer.]

It is not only the difficulty in getting soil in a proper tilth for planting or sowing a crop that makes it undesirable to plow the land when wet, but also the damage to land that in a majority of cases is the result of stirring the soil when it cannot be worked into a good condition.

There may be times in a wet season when it will be necessary to cultivate the soil when it is wet, in order to save the crop; but it is rarely the case that there is any saving in preparing the soil in the spring, in plowing or stirring when it is so wet that it will not work readily into good tilth.

Having the soil in a good tilth before planting the seed is one of the essentials necessary to secure a good growth and yield, and a failure to secure a good tilth will affect the crop to a more or less extent.

In many cases, if the soil is wet it will be a good plan to run out furrows in different parts of the fields that will afford good drainage, and in this way get rid of a good portion, at least, of the surplus moisture. While it is very important to get all the crops planted reasonably early, it will be better to delay planting until the soil is dry.

One of the advantages in plowing in the fall is that the soil will dry out earlier and be in a condition to seed sooner than if left undisturbed until spring. If the weather continues wet after plowing so as to run the soil together, less damage will be done than if it turns off dry, as it is liable to bake, and often the effect can be seen all during the summer, and will affect not only the growth but the yield.

It will often be difficult to work the soil to a good tilth after it has been plowed wet, and this affects the germination of the seed as well as the start to grow. It also increases the work of cultivation, and often prevents commencing the cultivation as early as it should be, and the better plan is to wait until it has dried out sufficiently so that in plowing it will work loose and mellow.

Resting Land.

Prof. Massey in Home and Farm.]

The best way to "rest" any land is to grow any recuperative crop on it, and this clover fits so nicely with a pea fallow the same season that it should be received with great favor by cotton planters. The peas can be eaten off by hogs or turned into ensilage and fed to stock in winter, and in either way the land be the gainer thereby. Put more land in clover and peas and less cotton, and grow more cotton per acre, and at the same time grow meat, milk and butter.

The Best Feed for Cows

We cannot too often repeat to inquirers after the best cow food, says an exchange, that no one food known will either keep or bring a cow up to the best work in butter-making. Short, fine, nutritious grass is as good as or better than any other one thing, but the best of grass needs to be reinforced by grain. So the very best conceivable ration of grain needs to be reinforced by grass or some other succulent food, such as good corn silage.

More Manure and Less Land.

Weekly News.]

Cultivate less land if your manure heap is small. There is just as much lack of judgment in endeavoring to cover ten acres with the manure that should go on one acre as in using a lump of butter on ten slices of bread when it will only answer for one. Besides this, it takes more labor to spread the manure on ten acres than on one. Concentrate your labor, concentrate your manure, and you may concentrate your crops without lessening the quantity.

The Potato Bug.

Either Paris green or London purple sprayed upon potato vines will kill the Colorado beetle as effectually as if dusted on them mixed with flour, lime or land plaster. It is now pretty well settled that one half pound of Paris green or London purple to fifty gallons of water is sufficient. It needs to be kept stirred while being sprayed, otherwise the poison will sink to the bottom, as neither dissolves in water except to a slight degree.

Potato Fertilizer.

A Pennsylvania farmer who experimented with mineral fertilizers for potatoes last year finds the following f rmula to give the best returns: Equal parts of nitrate of soda, dissolved bone, South Carolina rock and sulphate of potash. One half ton per acre was used, costing $15. The product was 400 bushels per acre of the White Elephant variety.

"I am afraid that young Featherly, who calls on you so often, is rather a fast young man," said a father to his daughter.

"Oh, no, he isn't, father," replied the little brother who was present.

"What do you know about Mr. Featherly?" demanded the old man.

"I only know," the little man replied, "that I heard him ask sister for a kiss last night, and she told him he could have one if he would 'be quick about it,' but it was the slowest kiss I ever saw."

Judge—Prisoner at the bar, have you anything to say before sentence is passed?

Prisoner—Yes, your honor. Will you please date my sentence from the time that lank-headed, long-winded, son of a gun of a lawyer of mine started to talk?

Papa—It's no use talking, Emma; these Sunday evening meetings have got to be shortened. My latest gas bill was enormous.

Emma—It's not my fault. It wouldn't be half as big if mamma didn't come into the parlor so often.

"Fine night," said Smith to Jones as they came out of the club.

"Yes," said Jones as the clock began striking the hour of 12, "it is a fine night, but I expect it will storm when I get home."

REV. SAM. P. JONES
REV. J. B. HAWTHORNE
WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT
DR. KING'S ROYAL GERMETUER

The following is an extract from a letter written by the World Renowned Evangelist:

"I returned from Tyler, Texas, on the 12th inst. I find my wife has been taking Royal Germetuer to the GREAT UPBUILDING of her physical system. She is now almost free from the distressing headaches with which she has been a MARTYR for twenty years. Surely it has done wonders for her! I WISH EVERY POOR SUFFERING WIFE HAD ACCESS TO THAT MEDICINE."

Rev. J. B. Hawthorne, Pastor First Baptist church, Atlanta, Ga., was cured of a long standing case of Catarrh. His wife had been an invalid from nervous headache, neuralgia, and rheumatism FOR THIRTY YEARS, scarcely having a day's exemption from pain. After taking Royal Germetuer two months, he writes: "A more complete transformation I have never witnessed. EVERY SYMPTON OF DISEASE HAS DISAPPEARED. She appears to be twenty years younger, and is as happy and playful as a healthy child. We have persuaded many of our friends to take the medicine, and the testimony of all of them is that it is a great remedy."

Dr. King's Royal Germetuer is a boon to women. It builds up the strength, increases the appetite, aids digestion, relieves them of the cause of disease, and insures health.

It is an infallible cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Insomnia, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Palpitation, Liver, Bladder and Kidney Diseases, Chills and Fevers, Catarrh, all Blood and Skin Diseases, Female Troubles, etc.

Prompted by a desire to reach more suffering people, the price has been reduced from $2.50 to $1.50 per concentrated bottle, which makes one gallon of medicine as per directions accompanying each bottle. For sale by the

and by Druggists. If your Druggist can not supply you, it can be sent by express.

LEGAL NOTICES.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, } In the Superior Court.
CUMBERLAND COUNTY. }

In the matter of S. J. Cameron, Ad'r of Colin McP. Campbell, dec'd, vs. John Campbell and others named in the summons, heirs-at-law and devisees of Colin McP. Campbell, deceased.

Order of Publication.

It appearing to the Court that Malcolm Graham, Annie Graham and Isabella Graham, children of Margaret Graham, deceased, Daniel C. Graham and William W. Graham and the children of Alex. and Cattie Watson, names unknown, are all necessary parties to this action, the three first named living, as it is supposed, in the State of Mississippi, and the last named, as it is supposed, living in Richmond County, N. C., none of whom, after due diligence, can be found in Cumberland County, it is therefore ordered that publication be made in the Fayetteville OBSERVER, a newspaper published in the County of Cumberland, for six consecutive weeks, commanding the said defendants to appear before the Clerk of the Superior Court of Cumberland County, at his office in Fayetteville, N. C., on the 24th day of May, 1890, and answer the complaint of the plaintiff there filed, the purpose of which is to obtain an order for the sale of the lands of Colin McP Campbell, deceased, to make real estate assets. And let the said defendants take notice that if they fail to appear and answer at the time and place herein named, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

The World Moves!
Get Up and Ride!!

When the Big Guns in the Dry Goods trade, who are supposed to buy their goods on long time, insist on selling everything to everybody for strict cash, we think it is time for us heathen, who have to pay cash and cash only for our goods before we can ever see them, to follow in their illustrious footsteps.

It is a well-known fact that all dealers in Grain are compelled by the commercial law of the times to pay for their supplies before they can get them, however much such dealers may be worth, or however they may be.

CASH

GOOD

We have decided therefore to adopt the same rule in selling that we have to abide by in buying. In our case, this should always have been the rule. The unbusiness-like methods of others being our only excuse for wrong-doing, we trust that all of our patrons will "catch on" to the "new departure," and show their appreciation of our endeavors in the past to please them, by continuing to give us their patronage.

Recollect that we sell you

We also hold that to endeavor to do a

Hand to Hand Cash Trnasaction

with every purchase is not only impracticable but also unbusiness-like, and we wish it distinctly understood that accounts with parties of a known place of business, that are always promptly paid on presentation without any foolishness, is in our opinion cash.
